

Congratulations!

You have realised that you are in the coldest and wettest season of them all, you have reached level 4!

The weather is cloudy and its very cold. The bus trip is long and you are getting bored. It starts raining and you are fed up of staring out of the window. You decide to play a mathamatical game.

The bus started the journey with twenty people. Half of them went down on the first bus stop. On the second bus stop, six people got on the bus and two went down. How many people are now on the bus?

Hint

The first two digits of your next code are the answer of the Maths problem you have just worked.

By doubling the answer, you will get the second two digits of the code. Now reverse the second two digits and you will finally get the last two digits of the code.

Use the code to unlock the next level (5).
